From the Pastor ~

Today we begin Catholic School's week with the open house of the Saint Bernadette School. Imagine a place where our Catholic faith is taught and celebrated, where the academic program is strong, as well as the arts and music programs, athletics and clubs, and many opportunities for community service and stewardship. This place is a Catholic school, alive and filled with the Holy Spirit, as we pray each day our Saint Bernadette School will be a place where our children learn to grow in holiness and charity, putting their faith in Jesus Christ at the very center of their lives.

We welcome Mrs. Deborah O'Neil and Mrs. Julianne Morin, our school's principal and assistant principal to the 11 AM Mass today along with members of the faculty and staff of the Saint Bernadette School and many prospective parents and students. Following Mass we will hold our annual pancake brunch with tours of the school beginning at 1:00 PM. We welcome you to come and visit our school today. We will also hold a second open house this Thursday February 2 during the school day.

Having the largest and newest Catholic Elementary School in the Diocese of Worcester is a great blessing and responsibility for our parish. When I think of how many young families that have joined our parish over the years because of our school, I thank God for our wonderful school! I take this opportunity to thank our faculty, administration and staff, and all of our loyal and hard working school families and parishioners for their support and care for our school and students, especially for their financial support of our Annual Fund.

Please save the dates for our Annual Novena in honor of Our Lady of Lourdes and Saint Bernadette beginning on February 10. This year we celebrate the 20th anniversary of the Novena. We welcome Bishop McManus the first night to preach and celebrate Mass for us and to lead us in the Novena prayers and we also welcome Bishop Daniel Reilly to our last night to preside and preach at Mass and conclude our Novena. If you have never come to the Novena, I hope you can come to as many nights as possible. It will be a time of great preaching, prayer and grace.

In Christ,

Fr. Stephen M. Gemme

Congratulations to Douglas Rice and Michael Leonard who will receive the sacrament of Confirmation by Bishop McManus on Sunday, February 5th at 3:00pm.

With Douglas and Michael, let us pray the prayer for an ever deepening of the gifts of the Holy Spirit for them and for each one of us:

Almighty God grant us: The Spirit of Wisdom, that we may value and be motivated by the things that last forever; the Spirit of Understanding, to make clear to our minds the light of your truth; the Spirit of Knowledge, that we may know you and know ourselves and grow in holiness; the Spirit of Fortitude, that we may overcome obstacles and difficulties, especially those in a world that at times might not have Gospel values; the Spirit of Counsel, that we may choose the surest way of doing your will, seeking first the Kingdom; the Spirit of Piety, that we may find peace and satisfaction in the service of God while serving others; the Spirit of Fear of the Lord, that we may be filled with a loving respect and awe toward you. Teach us to be your faithful disciples and enliven us in every way with your Spirit. Amen.

In the Silence
Meditations for Eucharistic Adoration
By Vandy Brennan Nies

"But whenever you pray, go into your room and shut the door and pray to your Father who is in secret; and your Father who sees in secret will reward you."

Matthew 6:6

Hello, Lord. It's me again! It never ceases to amaze me that you're here waiting for me to come. Walking in here is always a breath-taking adventure! Gosh, I love coming here! I especially love the silence. When I sit calmly in the quiet glow of that little candle that assures your presence here, you always share something with my heart, Lord. I so love when you do that, Jesus. It's just so very hard to quiet myself down enough for that to happen.

Sometimes my life shouts so loudly around me that I can't hear myself think. I am pulled in so many directions, I frequently can't decide which way to go. I've even been known to speak the unspeakable: "I was so busy today, I didn't have time to pray!" You and I both know that makes absolutely no sense whatsoever. If it weren't so pitiful, it'd be funny!

Just when I think life is getting "back to normal," (although I'm not even sure any more what "normal" is), something comes along to add to the chaos. The pace of life is so fast, and the noise it makes is sometimes so dissonant. It's very hard for me to settle down and just be. But you can make that happen when I'm here with you, Lord.

Take this time to help me let go of all that is frenzied in the whirlwind of today. Shut down my ears to what's going on outside; allow my lips to speak nothing; permit my entire being to be open only to you and the will of your Father. Allow me, Jesus, just to be, to bask in the serenity that I find here with you. Let there be no distractions that carry me away from you. Clear my mind of all thoughts, even the good ones. With each breath I take, fill my being deeper and deeper with your Spirit until there is room for nothing else. At this Emmanuel moment, be all that matters, Jesus. All that matters.

And when I'm empty of all that is not quiet, speak to me, Lord, for I am listening. Let's enjoy the quiet together.

Amen

Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament

We invite you to come and spend time with our Lord Jesus in the Blessed Sacrament. Our chapel is open 24 hours - 7 days a week. If you would like to sign up for a particular hour, please call the parish office at 508-393-2838.

Hours that need to be filled by an adorer

Monday -
Tuesday - 1pm, 4pm
Wednesday - 8am, 10am, 3pm, 4pm, 5pm
Thursday - 3pm
Friday - 8am, 9am, 4pm
Saturday & Sunday - All are welcome at anytime

During Eucharistic Adoration and through our prayers, we watch and wait; we remain silent in His presence and open ourselves to His graces which flow from the Eucharist. Intimacy with the Lord in Eucharistic Adoration can deepen our awareness of just how much God loves us and how we respond to that love.

"Let this meeting with Jesus be a time of healing in mind, body, spirit and heart." Vandy Brennan Nies

Pope warns of threat to freedom of religion, conscience in US

By Francis X. Rocca and Sarah Delaney, Catholic News Service

VATICAN CITY (CNS) -- Pope Benedict XVI warned visiting U.S. bishops that "radical secularism" threatens the core values of American culture, and he called on the church in America, including politicians and other laypeople, to render "public moral witness" on crucial social issues.

The pope spoke Jan. 19 to a group of U.S. bishops who were in Rome for their periodic "ad limina" visits, which included meetings with the pope and Vatican officials, covering a wide range of pastoral matters.

Opening with a dire assessment of the state of American society, the pope told the bishops that "powerful new cultural currents" have worn away the country's traditional moral consensus, which was originally based on religious faith as well as ethical principles derived from natural law.

Whether they claim the authority of science or democracy, the pope said, militant secularists seek to stifle the church's proclamation of these "unchanging moral truths." Such a movement inevitably leads to the prevalence of "reductionist and totalitarian readings of the human person and the nature of society."

The pope drew an opposition between current "notions of freedom detached from moral truth" and Catholicism's "rational perspective" on morality, founded on the conviction that the "cosmos is possessed of an inner logic accessible to human reasoning." Using the "language" of natural law, he said, the church should promote social justice by "proposing rational arguments in public square."

Coming at the start of an election year, Pope Benedict's words were clearly relevant to American politics, a connection he made explicit by mentioning threats to "that most cherished of American freedoms, the freedom of religion."

The pope said that many of the visiting bishops had told him of "concerted efforts" against the "right of conscientious objection ... to cooperation in intrinsically evil practices" -- an apparent reference to proposals by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, opposed by the U.S. bishops, that all private health insurance plans cover surgical sterilization procedures and artificial birth control.

In response to such threats, Pope Benedict said, the church requires an "engaged, articulate and well-formed Catholic laity" with the courage and critical skills to articulate the "Christian vision of man and society." He said that the education of Catholic laypeople is essential to the "new evangelization," an initiative that he has made a priority of his pontificate.

Touching on one of most controversial areas of church-state relations in recent years, the pope spoke of Catholic politicians' "personal responsibility to offer public witness to their faith, especially with regard to the great moral issues of our time," which he identified as "respect for God's gift of life, the protection of human dignity and the promotion of authentic human rights."

The pope was not specific about the bishops' relationship with such politicians, merely encouraging the bishops to "maintain contacts" with them and "help them understand" their duty to promote Catholic values.

While acknowledging the "genuine difficulties" facing the church in the United States, the pope concluded on a hopeful note, pointing to a growing appreciation for "Judeo-Christian" civic values, and a "new generation of Catholics," who he said will play a "decisive role in renewing the Church's presence and witness in American society."

Before the speech, Cardinal Donald W. Wuerl, archbishop of Washington, greeted the pope with brief remarks that recalled his 2008 visit to the United States.

The pope addressed bishops from the District of Columbia, Maryland, Delaware, Virginia, West Virginia, the U.S. Archdiocese for the Military Services, and the Virgin Islands.

Abortion leading to less respect for lives of disabled, archbishop says

PHILADELPHIA (CNS) -- A Philadelphia hospital's alleged refusal to provide a kidney transplant to a mentally disabled 3-year-old is yet another example of the harm caused in the United States by the Roe v. Wade court decision legalizing abortion, according to Philadelphia Archbishop Charles J. Chaput.

"The habit of treating genetically disabled children as somehow less worthy of life is growing across the country," the archbishop said in a column posted Jan. 19 on the website of his archdiocesan newspaper, The Catholic Standard & Times. He was commenting on the case of Amelia Rivera, whose parents say she was denied a kidney transplant at the Children's Hospital of Philadelphia because she has Wolf-Hirschhorn syndrome, a chromosomal disorder that results in severe developmental retardation.

The child's parents say a doctor at the hospital told them that a kidney transplant would not be performed on Amelia at the hospital using a donated kidney because she was "mentally retarded." The hospital has declined to comment on the specifics of the case, citing patient confidentiality, but said that transplant eligibility decisions were "based on widely accepted, medically valid methods, with many factors considered." Archbishop Chaput said it is "unwise to assume that news media get all the details of a story like this right, or that the motives of an entire hospital's leadership and staff are as unfeeling as an individual doctor might seem."

But he added, "We need to understand that if some lives are regarded as unworthy, respect for all life is at risk. We should pray that Amelia Rivera gets the help she needs, and that God surrounds her parents with the support they need." Anticipating the 39th anniversary of the Supreme Court's decision in Roe v. Wade on Jan. 22, Archbishop Chaput said, "More than 45 million abortions later, the damage of that decision continues to grow -- undermining our reverence for the life not just of unborn children but of the mentally and physically disabled as well."

Welcome to St. Bernadette Parish

Thank you for joining us in the celebration of the Mass! It is our sincere wish to welcome you to our parish. If you are new to our parish or to the Catholic faith, we are honored to have you with us. Registration packets are available in the Gathering Space of the Church and at the Pastoral Center Office or by calling 508-393-2838. Please feel free to ask any questions about our Church.

Frequently, those seeking to celebrate Marriage, Baptism or serve as sponsors for Confirmation or Baptism request a letter stating that they are active parishioners. To receive such a letter one must be registered in the parish, attend Mass regularly and be committed to stewardship of time, talent & treasure. One means of verifying participation is through the use of parish offertory envelopes. If you choose not to participate in the support of the parish, or are unable to contribute at this time, please note your prayerful support on your envelope and place it in the weekly offertory. We will then be aware of your continued participation, and you will not be noted as "inactive" on our roster. To request envelopes, contact the parish office at 508-393-2838.
